December 28, 2011 meeting minutes & reports

December's meeting was the annual Christmas party, so there are no meeting minutes to publish.

From the President's Hanger

Fellow members, another year is behind us and the new flying season can't be too far away. We have a lot planned for this season and what we have planned should be easy to put together. This will be the third year of our multi-club fly-in that we really have that is a success. We are planning a few fly-ins for club get together and to have a little fun with our hobby.

The January meeting should be very interesting. We have a guest speaker, Col Bob Fortnam, USAAF retired. Bob was a bomber pilot during WW II. I am sure he will have some good stories to tell us along with what it was like to fly the big bombers.

We have a few positions open that have to be filled, and there will be a lot of work needed to be done at the spring clean up. The flooding we had really made a mess of the runway. So far this winter the weather has been kind. So on a good day, come to the field and get in a flight or two it will keep the cob webs away.

If any one has any suggestions they would like the club to do come to a meeting and let us know. Remember this is your club. Every one has a say. Lets get this rolling on a membership club.

Thanks and hope to see all of you soon.

Bob

PROPOSAL

I have a proposal for the Jan. club meeting. Due to the way the weather was last year, we really did not have a good season of training. What I would like to see is we don't use Tuesday and Thursday for training only so we can work better with the students and get around bad weather. I would like to have the students call the training coordinator and set up a day and time for training. The training coordinator will call his list of instructors and assign an instructor to cover the date and time requested. If we have more than one student, he should call the other students to see if they can come to the field on the set time. I believe this will help the students and make it a lot easier on the instructors
